

First meeting: (13th of October)

Main Points:

- Demonstrate quick wins. Proven areas like radiology and dermatology are the best starter projects for telemedicine as they can really demonstrate its potential.
- Support existing efforts. Groups like Telmedpak and the HALA project already have taken great steps towards a useful implementation of Telemedicine. The most efficient option may be to reinforce those projects through the efforts of this task force.
- Learn from others. Indian small-scale telemedicine projects and larger Malaysian projects provide excellent examples from which Pakistani telemedicine can benefit. We must study international efforts and apply those learning's.
